DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 24 (in part) and 25-27, 29, 31, and 32, drawn to a method comprising transforming a plant with a sequence encoding a plant non-symbiotic hemoglobin to increase the level of expression of non-symbiotic hemoglobin.

Group II, claim(s) 24 (in part), 28 and 30-32, drawn to a method comprising transforming a plant with a sequence that is sense or antisense to a sequence encoding a plant non-symbiotic hemoglobin to decrease the level of expression of non-symbiotic hemoglobin.

2. The groups of inventions listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The technical feature linking groups I and II is a method comprising transforming a plant with a sequence encoding a non-symbiotic hemoglobin. However, in the prior art (WO 00/00597, published on Jan. 6, 2000) Guy et al teach maize cells transformed with constructs comprising a sequence that encodes a non-symbiotic hemoglobin (see abstract and pages 9-10), and they claim a method that comprises providing a plant having increased cellular levels of an oxygen-binding protein (see claim 16). Given these teachings, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to make a transgenic plant with the constructs that Guy et al utilized in the cultured maize cells, therefore a method comprising transforming a plant with a sequence encoding a non-symbiotic hemoglobin lacks an inventive step over the prior art. Therefore, the technical feature linking the inventions of groups I and II does not constitute a special technical feature as defined by PCT Rule 13.2 as it does not define a contribution over the prior art.

Accordingly, Groups I and II are not so linked by the same or a corresponding special technical feature as to form a single general inventive concept.

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions have unity of invention (37 CFR 1.475(a)), applicant must provide reasons in support thereof. Applicant may submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. Where such evidence or admission is provided by applicant, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
